

Letter of Responsibility

Operations · Member

Dear Operations member, by accepting your place in Operations you join the people who turn Resala's work into something real. You work under your committee's heads and director, take ownership of the tasks they give you, and help your team deliver where it matters. This letter has two parts — the General Guidelines every Resala member keeps, and what your role asks of you. Both parts are binding.

01 General Guidelines for Members

The same for every committee

1. TEAMWORK AND HIERARCHY

- Build a healthy, respectful environment around you, and put people before targets.
- Take your tasks from your head, and refer every decision to the highest position in the committee that owns it.
- Support a decision once it is made. Raise disagreement with your head, not around them.
- Hand decisions to the Presidential Team whenever one of them is present.

2. RESPECT AND CONDUCT

- Avoid any act, comment or behaviour that leaves another person uncomfortable.
- Any report of discomfort with your conduct leads to an evaluation meeting.

3. OWNERSHIP

- Carry Resala's vision into every event and interaction you take part in.
- Show up when Resala needs you, and help any committee that asks.
- A task is done when its result is delivered, not when it is assigned or started.
- Report problems early, while they can still be fixed, and follow them until they are.

4. SELF AWARENESS

- Accept only what you can deliver, and say so the moment you are overextended.
- Represent Resala in every interaction connected to the club. Misrepresenting it leads to an evaluation meeting.

5. COMMITMENT AND ATTENDANCE

- Attend a minimum of four events per month.
- Attend the reflection meeting every two weeks (Wednesday by default). Miss no more than two per semester.
- Attend every bonding event: the opening, the closing, and two each month.
- Commitments in other clubs are not an excuse. Give Resala priority at any event shared with other clubs.

6. WARNINGS

- Every member is entitled to two warnings before downgrade, following the Office of Residential Life framework.
- A warning arrives by email with a 15-day action plan. Reply within two days: no reply brings a second warning, and no reply to that brings downgrade.

02 Your Role in Operations

Nothing happens on the ground until someone like you makes it happen.

- Help plan and set up the logistics before every event.
- Research vendors, prices, supplies and alternatives when asked.
- Help with purchasing, transport, storage and preparation.
- Log every request and purchase in the committee's tracker.
- Stay flexible when budget, timing or availability changes — and tell your head early.

By replying CONFIRMED to your acceptance email, you acknowledge that you have read, understood and accepted both parts of this Letter of Responsibility, and commit to them throughout your time as a member of Operations.
